The necessary omission, on account of the death of a cabinet minister, of the grand banquet that had been arranged at the White House in honor of Gen. Diaz caused general regret in administration circles, for the prominence of the distinguished Mexican warranted any attention that could have been shown him. Official mourning, however, did not interfere with SURVEYOR the entertainment of the distinguished singer, Madame Nilsson, who, though berself in mourning for her husband, seems to enjoy life in a genuine Laugtry style, "as she sails, as she sails." She seemed to enjoy singing at the White House on Friday evening for the pleasure she was able to give her listeners. Very little has happened since my last letter was written, but I have mitted writing long enough, and if I an't tell you about one thing, I can alk about another.

Our town marshal has stuck up a notice for all to come forward and pay their taxes. They should be paid if for nothing else but to keep up the pres ent appearance of our streets. Our Main Street is used as a receptacle, for all the rubbish; on Main Street may be seen in profusion, the following: Old salt barrels, goods boxes, saw logs, mortar beds, old plank, oyster cans, broken glassware, rotten filling culverts and half a dozen magnificent hog wallows that fairly swarm with hogs in the summer time-such is Main Street, Livermore, Ky.

Weir & Moorman's factory is going again. Our school is giving satisfaction to everybody. Several of our citizens are talking of going to Texas. They should read Isaac W. Nelson's letter in the HER-ALD of the 28h inst.
